Summary of the Government Announcements, 17 July 2020

Please see below the latest government announcements regarding COVID-19:

The Prime Minister today made a statement stating:

- that from 18 July, councils will have new powers in their areas, they will be able to close specific premises, shut public outdoor spaces, and cancel events. These powers will enable councils to act more quickly in response to outbreaks, where speed is paramount.
- Next week, the government will publish draft regulations which clearly set out how central government can intervene more effectively at a local level.
- Where justified by the evidence, ministers will be able to close whole sectors or types of premises in an area, introduce local "stay at home" orders, prevent people entering or leaving defined areas, reduce the maximum size of gatherings beyond national rules, or restrict transport systems serving local areas.
- The following timetable, which is conditional and relies on the continued success in controlling the virus, was set out:
- From 17th July, the government is making clear anybody may use public transport, while of course encouraging people to consider alternative means of transport where they are available.
- From 25 July, the government has already committed to reopening the indoor gyms, pools and other sports facilities.
- From 1 August, the government will update the advice on going to work. The government will give employers

- more discretion, and ask them to make decisions about how their staff can work safely.
- From 1 August, the government will reopen most remaining leisure settings, namely bowling, skating rinks and casinos, and will enable all close contact services such as beauticians to resume.
- From 1 August, indoor performances to a live audience, subject to the success of pilots, can restart and the government will also pilot larger gatherings in venues like sports stadia, with a view to wider reopening in the Autumn. Wedding receptions for up to 30 people will also be allowed.
- From October, the government intends to bring back audiences in stadia and to allow conferences and other business events to recommence in Covid-19 secure way, subject to the successful outcome of pilots.
- The guidance on the closure of certain businesses and venues has been updated to reflect the further easing of restrictions to allow more businesses and venues to reopen from 25 July and 1 August.

DfH has published a suite of new guidance:

- Guidance for local authorities and local decision-makers on containing and managing COVID-19 outbreaks at a local level.
